Wine Review Online, Rich Cook, 20th January 2015

"You didn't hear much about Italian varieties in the Australian wine world, but Zonte's Footstep winemaker Ben Riggs is quietly establishing his new home for Pinot Grigio and other Italian grapes. This bottling is very attractive on the nose, showing bright lemon, lime, white flowers and stony minerality. Racy acidity without any sharp edges helps the aromas come alive as flavours in your mouth, adding a touch of apple to this creamy yet cleansing wine. Oysters or fresh green salads will be elevated with this is a pairing. A Platinum Award winner at the 2015 San Diego International Wine Competition."
