Trophy & Double Gold Medal China Wine & Spirits Awards Best Value 2016

94 points – James Halliday's Wine Companion 2017. P. 754-755

"85% shiraz, 15% petite sirah from McLaren Vale, open and closed fermenters, matured for 18 months in new and used hogsheads. Deep, gleaming inky purple; all about hedonism: this bypasses the head, travelling through the heart and establishing a lasting friendship with the stomach. It's the outcome of some very clever winemaking."

93 points – Campbell Mattinson, The Wine Front, 1st September 2016, thewinefront.com.au

"85% shiraz, 15% petit sirah from McLaren Vale. One for the lovers of a Big Red. It's a hulking wine. High alcohol, high impact, the throttle pulled out. Asphalt, toast, dark chocolate and blackberry, with saltbush notes infused throughout. Plenty of tannin, both grainy and ripe; grunty. A warm-the-cockles style but with a hard-stare seriousness. You have to excuse a bit of alcohol warmth and prefer your reds to be on the old-school side of town, but in that light this packs an impressive punch."

Gold medal/93 points – Tasting world wine championships

Black garnet colour. Lively, savoury aromas and flavours of roasted peppers, dried mulberries, leather, and hung game with a satiny, lively dryish medium-to-full-body and a smooth, complex, long pomegranates, over dried tomato, crème brulee, and nuts and cedar finish with well-integrated, chewy earthy tannins and moderate oak. A seriously poise and structured shiraz blend that drinks like an old world Rhone wine.

92 points James Suckling 3rd February 2016, www.jamesuckling.com

"A bold and rich red that marries these two compatible varieties effortlessly. Plenty of dark cassis and blood plum, chocolate, mocha and liquorice, gently peppery too. It's a big wine. Drink now"

91 Points – Tastings.com 20/04/2015

Nearly opaque black violet colour. Delicate, toasty, fruity aromas of toffee and black raspberry torte with a silky, lively, drying medium-to-full body and a warming, complex, medium-long spiced nuts, herb roasted root vegetables, pomegranate, and bacon finish with well integrated tannins. A supple, enticingly dry red blend that will pair well at the table
